

Magna sign up to charter to stamp out yob culture

WITH the national focus very much on the standards of behaviour following the riots in cities and towns up and down the country, Dorchester-based Magna Housing Association has signed up to the new 'Respect'

by Philip Evans

charter to reaffirm its stance against anti-social behaviour (ASB). The standard, launched at the Chartered Institute of Housing (CIH) conference in the summer, confirms Magna's commitment to provide a high quality ASB service which meets residents' needs and provides good value for their rent money.

The Audit Commission's most recent inspection of Magna's ASB service in 2009 described it as 'excellent'.

Group chief executive Graham Colls said: "Magna doesn't tolerate anti-social behaviour. "Just over three years ago, we formed a team to deal specifically with ASB.

"The team responds to each case as soon as possible and works very closely with the police in resolving anti-social behaviour issues that affect our residents and the areas in which they live."

Ruth Martindale, who manages Magna's ASB team, said: "We encourage anyone who is suffering from harassment or any other form of anti-social behaviour to let us know. We deal with complaints in confidence where necessary and we can offer support to victims."

Magna also has two witness champions who are also able to help people through the process.

Frustrating

"Our two witness champions, one of whom is a Magna resident, can help because they've been through the process themselves."

"Sometimes getting the result can often be lengthy and frustrating but we'd urge people not to be put off.

"The most positive as-

'Magna does not tolerate anti-social behaviour'

pect of the whole experience can be the community pulling together and solving a problem. Neighbours become friends while the area can be rejuvenated."

◆ Magna Housing Association provides and manages affordable housing for people who cannot afford to buy or rent the accommodation they need on the open housing market.

It owns and manages more than 6,000 homes across the south and south west of England and is committed to providing affordable housing in areas where it is needed most.

Magna employs around 200 staff across its areas of operation and its head office is in Dorchester.

COUNCILLOR Chris Clipson moved from South Somerset to Lyme Regis five years ago, saying he had found a "vibrant community".

A retired art teacher, Chris trained at Camberwell School of Art in London and Leeds University, and taught in Yorkshire, Doncaster and for 23 years at Stoke-sub-Hamdon in Somerset.

In the May 2011 local elections, Chris was elected to Lyme Regis Town Council and is a big supporter of the town's new Hub youth club.

He is currently recovering from a busy week, as a member of the Lyme Regis Regatta and Carnival Committee, which is celebrating great success with their annual summer events.

Chris is married to artist Camille and has two grown-up children.

■ WHY did you join Lyme Regis Regatta and Carnival Committee?

Having moved here I looked carefully at the various societies and eventually decided to join the regatta and Carnival Committee, as their needs seemed greatest, and still do!

■ WHAT is your favourite Regatta and Carnival Week event and why?

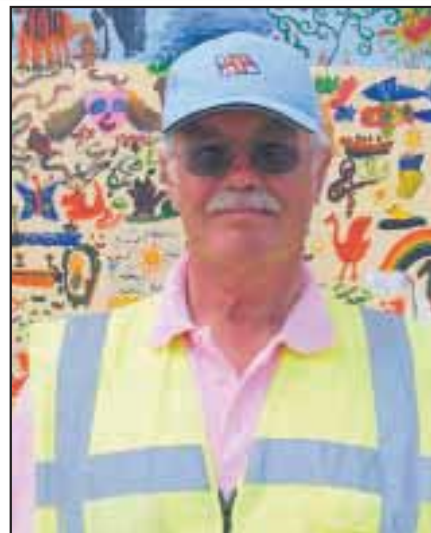

My favourite carnival activity so far has been the Walk Of Light torchlight procession because it's a great coming together of a holiday community.

■ WHAT do you like about living in Lyme Regis?
I love Lyme Regis because of its people. There are many different characters here and everyone is very friendly towards each other, creating a comfortable atmosphere.

■ WHAT would you change about the town if you could?

I would like Lyme to constantly review its holiday face at the same time as working to support all those who live here, young and old.

■ WHY did you decide to run for town council?
I decided to become a town councillor to move agendas forward. I am amazed at the length of time it takes to improve anything, and I remain determined to speed up process so that we, as a town, can move forward.

■ WHAT are your other personal interests?

I still remain involved in my art activities. I am very interested in seaside architecture, beach hut history and the restoration of my Austin A35 van!

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

■ ARE you involved with any other local organisations?

I am a volunteer miller at the Town Mill and I am a member of Lyme Regis Gig Club. I hope to help in the construction of the club's new gig, which will be called "Tempest".

■ WHERE is your ideal holiday destination?

Having spent some summers in France, I now prefer closer destinations and my favourite is the West Wight, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty on the Isle of Wight.

■ WHAT would you do if you won the Lottery?

If I won the Lottery, I would support my family's interests and would also wish to give encouragement to local good causes.

■ WHO would be your three ideal dinner guests?

My three ideal dinner guests would be one who would be willing to shop for ingredients, one who would love to prepare, cook and serve the meal, and one who was not averse to washing up!

■ EXCELLENT: Business, museum and BID representatives show off the new wall photos in Durngate Street

Walls of Durngate Street get a facelift

THE WALLS of Durngate Street in Dorchester have had a facelift with the launch of a series of old photos of the county town.

The project was the idea of town crier Alistair Chisholm to liven up a large space of empty wall and turn it into a potential tourist attraction with local relevance.

Backed by the businesses in Durngate Street, who funded one third of the cost, and Dorchester BID who provided the rest of the cost, Kate Hebditch researched old photographs of Dorchester. Helped by the staff staff of Dorset County Museum she selected three local

by Stuart Broom

scenes as well as providing accompanying text including an appropriate poem from the Moule family, friends of Thomas Hardy, about the town.

Lamart Display and Exhibition Services designed and produced the display, which was launched last week when businesses in Durngate Street together with representatives of the museum and BID directors gathered for a photo call.

A BID representative said: "The BID is pleased to do what it can to help groups of local businesses improve the appearance of their area and so to enhance the attractiveness of Dorchester as a whole. Everyone involved is very grateful to Alistair and Kate for the time and effort put into this project and thanks to The Works for allowing the use of its walls!"

Alistair Chisholm who organised the realisation of the project said: "It is a wonderful addition to the town, and I must thank Kate for all the hard work she did in researching the photos and the associated text."

County council staff agree new terms of employment Changes effect callout payments, overtime and lease car scheme

DORSET County Council staff have "reluctantly" accepted changes to their terms and conditions in order to help the authority make savings.

The changes will see council staff lose their subsidised lease car scheme as well as take a reduction in overtime, standby, call-out payments and protection arrangements following job changes.

The decision will help the council achieve annual savings of £1.03 million over the next three years.

Vice-chair of the council's Staff Consultative Panel, Berny Parkes, said: "Union members reluctantly accepted by ballot the proposed changes to their terms and conditions and acknowledged the spirit of co-operation and compromise by all parties that achieved this agreement.

"However, members will remain vigilant to further attacks on public services by national government and would call on our employers to unite with unions in defending the employees and the services they provide from further cuts."

The changes will come into effect on January 1st 2012. A further stipulation of the deal states that no further whole authority changes to terms and conditions of service are to be made before December 31st 2012.

Dorset County Council leader Angus Campbell said: "We very much welcome this decision by union members.

"With the council seeking to find more than £55M of savings over the next three years, we have to look at all areas of expenditure.

"But we hope these changes to terms and conditions will mean fewer redundancies than would otherwise have been necessary."

Dorset County Council Chief Executive, David Jenkins, added: "I am very pleased to see how all parties have worked together to meet the very difficult challenges with which we are faced.

"As a result, this agreed package strikes a balance between reducing costs and rewarding staff fairly."

Encouraging more cyclists into town centre

DORCHESTER town centre now has a total of 16 bicycle stands within its bounds, thanks to funding secured by the town's BID working closely with other local agencies to purchase these much needed facilities.

The Dorset Health and Wellbeing Partnership - part of the Communities for Health organisation, the West Dorset Partnership, the Dorset Strategic Partnership, and Dorset County Council as part of the local transport plan, all played their part in creating these parking areas. By working together, these groups have been instrumental in encouraging people to hop on their bikes, thus helping reduce traffic congestion and CO2 emissions, and persuading people to adopt a healthier lifestyle.

The town has suffered from a shortage of secure parking for cyclists, but this has now been redressed and it is hoped that more and more people will revert to this form of transport for their trips into the town centre.

David Webb, Chairman of the West Dorset Partnership, said: "It is great to see this project reach fruition. The project supports both the Partnership's Community Plan and Climate Change Strategy in terms of encouraging healthy lifestyles as well as reducing carbon emissions, and will hopefully encourage more people to cycle within the town. It's really positive

by Anita Harries

to see the cycle racks already in use."

Although many other towns have their own cycle stands, what is unique to Dorchester are the special "flagpole stands" which mark out these parking spaces. Designed by BID director, Phil Gordon, they are topped with a penny farthing, leaving the visitor in no doubt as to the purpose and location of the cycle parks.

By creating the drawings himself, he ensured the finished product would fit in perfectly with Dorchester's historic street scene, and it was equally important to Mr Gordon that a local manufacturer be found to make the stands.

Offering very competitive rates, the task fell to Bridmet who made a superb job of the county town's penny farthings complete with the names of their sponsors.

Mr Gordon said: "I am incredibly pleased with the final result. It has taken several months to reach the point we are at now, but it has been well worth the wait. The racks look good, the flagpoles really stand out to good effect, and it was great to find a local business to carry out the work. The stands are all galvanised so they won't rust. All we need now are loads of keen cyclists to use our very own sanctuary for bikes!"

■ ON A ROLL: The Mayor of Dorchester, Councillor Tess James, helps launch Dorchester's own unique cycle stands, accompanied by representatives of all the agencies involved

Making art accessible

by Jackie Evans

To celebrate their remarkable progress the art class at the Age Concern Centre in Dorchester held a cream tea and exhibition on Friday.

The eight members of the class have been meeting for just 10 weeks of a 12-week course.

During that time most of them have gone from absolute beginners to being able to create landscape watercolours of their own.

Artist Margaret Flavell runs the class. She said: "I don't teach, as such, or do demonstrations but I have showed the class some of my work and I aim to help, advise and encourage so that each person develops their own style."

"We were able to begin the classes with a grant from Dorchester POPP (Partnership for Older People), which meant that people could just turn up with no equipment of their own.

"Sometimes older people approaching art for the first time don't really know what to paint or how to start. With the grant money we were able to buy some course work with pictures for inspiration and some very basic templates to encourage people to begin."

"The templates offer some broken lines and perspective for the beginning of a picture. It's then up to the painter to fill in the rest of the lines and interpret the picture as they see fit. I always encourage them to add in something of their own so that they develop a style."

"I think by the end of the course I will know which pictures belong to which person just by looking at them."

Anna Biley, the Age UK development officer, who was helping to serve cream teas said that the class had been really popular and they were very grateful to POPP for the grant.

She continued: "After a short break we are hoping to resume again in October. Most of the members of this class want to continue on Friday afternoons and we hope to offer a new class for those wishing to start on Wednesday afternoons."

Mrs Flavell continued: "The idea is to make art accessible, so during the winter we hope it might be possible to take the opportunity out to some of the people who, perhaps, can't make it into the centre."

All those who were painting on Friday afternoon agreed that they had very much enjoyed the course and hoped to continue with the classes in October.

A little help can make a large difference

■ A HELPING HAND: Nightstop Co-ordinator Sophie Tscheppera and the Mayor of Dorchester Councillor Tess James

Mayor's chose charity reaches out to young people with nowhere to go

"They talked to me and made sure I was okay and settled. It was the safest I'd felt in a long time as I'd been sleeping in my car. Although I was initially scared about coming, this didn't last."

THIS is just one testimonial from the many young people who have used the services of Dorset Nightstop and their host families. Dorset Nightstop is one of the charities the Mayor of Dorchester, Councillor Tess James, has chosen to support during her year in office, not just financially but also helping to raise the profile of this invaluable organisation.

Dorset Nightstop provides emergency accommodation for homeless young people between the ages of 16 - 25. They stay in the homes of carefully recruited, fully checked and trained volunteers, or "host families", who are supported by project staff. Accommodation is on a one-night-at-a-time basis for a maximum of three nights.

The youngsters can expect a free service, an evening meal, washing facilities, a room of their own for the night, breakfast, a listening ear if required, and a temporary safe environment. This allows them breathing space to get support and move towards finding more permanent accommodation, and provides a short term solution when other options are not available.

Young people can find themselves homeless for many reasons, and not always of their own making. This can be anything from a family break-up to sudden unemployment, high rents, and a total lack of communication between parent and child which can turn even the most trivial of problems into a seemingly unsurmountable obstacle. Only a very small proportion of runaways are as a direct result of drug misuse or anti-social behaviour. Local authorities only have a duty to provide emergency accommodation for young people with a priority need and is often difficult for them to secure. Young people without this priority need are offered advice and information but rarely somewhere to stay.

by Anita Harries

This is where Nightstop steps in. A county-wide charity, Nightstop offers accommodation in a safe, friendly environment, at the same time allowing agencies time to look at long term solutions to their homelessness. It is not a solution in itself. As well as social services and housing associations, the charity has forged links with other agencies such as the Hub, Run, and Connexions in an attempt to keep these runaways off the streets. But to keep this organisation running smoothly, host families are desperately needed in Dorchester - one of the biggest referral areas - who are prepared to open their doors to homeless youngsters and offer a safe haven to those who are often scared and distressed.

Volunteer drivers are also needed, essential in a rural area such as Dorset, to transport the youngsters to and from their host families. As already mentioned, full training and support is given, and all basic expenses will be covered.

Nightstop Co-ordinator Sophie Tscheppera said: "The first 12 months have seen a successful start to this project, and I have personally seen many of the young people we have helped turn the corner and get their lives back on track with our help."

"This project is invaluable in giving youngsters the breathing space they so desperately need, and gives them a real helping hand in the move towards independent living."

"These are vulnerable people, often experiencing life away from home for the first time. We need to move away from the bed and breakfast culture and create a more homely atmosphere for those looking for a roof over their heads."

If anyone is interested in becoming either a host family or a volunteer driver, or would like more information on Nightstop in general, please contact dorsetnightstop@actionforchildren.org.uk or telephone Sophie on 01305 251768.

As one local social worker said about a youngster the project helped: "It's great to know that he's got somewhere safe to go tonight, rather than sleeping on the streets - I could have done with something like this a long time ago."

Why it would save tax-payers money to stop council office building now

■ A NEW 'Reasoning Pressure Group' this Saturday embarks on a series of four Saturday morning "Question-Time" Public Meetings to demonstrate - using facts and the sales and customer experience of traders since Charles Street South car-park, Dorchester, was closed - why it would be cheaper for tax-payers, even now - with cancellation penalties - to immediately abort the current building foundation work there. This should happen even ahead of the 'investigation' being carried out by external auditors KPMG report being issued in September.

Crucial to the argument is the discovery that an outline design exists from a former WDDC District Architect, that hasn't been debated by council in the last five years, which would site the new offices conveniently and economically just behind the council's existing offices at Stratton House.

It would meet all the latest building regulations, greenness and Disability Discrimination Act requirements and could be 4-6 storeys high...so it would not be necessary to blot out Charles Street South car park's 226 spaces, which represent 250,000 x 2-hour opportunities per year of highly convenient public parking for everyone including for pensioners, disabled and those with heavy shopping.

Dependent then on the council's will it could convert back to a two-tier car-park to help handle parking need, should a shopping centre development ever become viable in the future on Charles Street North car-park. Maybe the council could discuss there being a green community-based area above the new Charles Street South two-tier car-park?

This will be discussed on Saturday, and questions will be put to Peter Woodward, archaeologist and retired Curator of Dorset County Museum, on the archaeology beneath Charles Street, parts of which he has excavated in the past.

Questions too for Keith Hix, retired Kingston Maurward horticultural Lecturer, on the horse-chestnut trees in the South Walks monument - following great concern on how this month roots have had excavated earth piled-up on them, against British Standards recommendations, and impeding air from reaching root-ends.

Then a Dorchester trader's experience since the car park has closed will be discussed.

Finally the forceful statement 'But it'd be far too costly to stop now!' will be disproved because of the estimated £200,000 p.a. loss of car-parking fees from the shut car-park (totalling £16 million over 80 years), plus the knock-on sales loss to existing traders, the £-million(s) dowry to the National Trust to take-over the 'Tolpuddle-Martyrs' Crown Courts, and the likely £1m+ deficit against the council estimate on property-sales round Stratton House. The new Reasoning Group is 'BOSS' standing for 'Build Offices on Stratton-House Site'. It would avoid the terrible parking muddle that currently could happen, if the whole of Charles street parking had to be closed for two years while a shopping development was built.

'BOSS' is asking councillors to be bold, reason through the complete figures, and take the decision which reason containing all the facts and figures shows, especially taking into account the new economic reality and likelihood of investors being able to go ahead with a shopping development at this time.

Invitations for future Saturdays will be sent to council leaders, our MP and other experts on specific issues. The meetings are 100 per cent non-political.

John Grantham,
Leader BOSS,

(Build Offices on Stratton-House Site).

Hardy's heathland features on television

THORNCOMBE Woods near Dorchester, an inspiration for local writer Thomas Hardy, featured on BBC One's Countryfile programme on Sunday.

John Craven and the Countryfile team recently visited the site, managed by Dorset County Council's Dorset Countryside Service, to learn about the ongoing works to restore the heathland that makes up part of Hardy's 'Egdon Heath'.

Focusing on the landscape that inspired the writer, the BBC team learned how Dorset Countryside rangers have removed a former conifer plantation on Duddle Heath to encourage regeneration of heathland plants. The area together with Thorncombe Woods is now being grazed by Dartmoor ponies to keep scrub re-growth under control.

Dorset Countryside area ranger Lawrence Weston said: "Restoring the heathland in this area really gives you an insight into the landscape that inspired Thomas Hardy's writings. It is an exposed, elemental and harsh environment that can make you feel vulnerable. Hardy's birthplace is much more than the building he was born in, it is the landscape that shaped his understanding of the world and became the setting for much of his writing."

In addition to exploring the area of heathland restoration, John Craven met the local 'heath cropper' ponies while taking in the views of Dorchester by Rushy Pond. The programme will be aired on BBC One and can be viewed on the BBC iplayer.

The heathland restoration work is only one aspect of developments at the site. The Hardy's Birthplace Project is a partnership Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) project between Dorset County Council and the National Trust to improve visitor facilities for both Hardy's Cottage and Thorncombe Woods.

Leave the hangers behind at M&S

TWO of the UK's most trusted household names, Marks & Spencer (M&S) and UNICEF have formed a partnership to help transform the lives of the world's poorest children. Staff at the M&S Dorchester store now ask customers not to take a hanger home when they buy clothes and will instead donate 50p for every £1 saved from hanger recycling to UNICEF, the world's leading children's organisation.

The aim is to raise at least £1.9million over the next three years. This will fund a critical new project in two locations within the Mymensingh and Dhaka regions of Bangladesh, providing all the basics children need for a better future, such as clean water, education and healthcare.

Marc Bolland, Chief Executive Officer of Marks & Spencer says: "By simply leaving their hangers at the tills our customers are helping us, helping UNICEF and helping some of the world's poorest children – just one box of hangers can provide a child with clean water for a fortnight. We are very proud of our UNICEF partnership and believe it can make a big difference to families and communities in Bangladesh, a country we have a large presence in with a regional office and 38 supplier factories."

The unique programme will improve the lives of over 50,000 people in Bangladesh by addressing every aspect of a child's basic needs within their communities.

The funding will cover 16 interventions including healthcare (breast feeding programmes and treatment for malnutrition), education (funding nursery and primary schooling) and the provision of essential services such as sanitation and clean water. An estimated five million people live in slum locations in Dhaka alone.

It is hoped the hanger recycling scheme will enable M&S to re-use and recycle over 150 million unwanted hangers a year which will be taken to a factory in North Wales and recycled

According to UNICEF estimates the money M&S will donate from one box could provide a child with clean water for a fortnight; whilst 50 boxes could provide support for a child in secondary education for a year.

Children's author with murder on her mind

■ ENTHRALLED: Tanya Landman talks to an audience of children at the Dorset County Library in Dorchester

POPULAR children's author Tanya Landman paid a visit to Dorchester library to talk about her books, in particular the Poppy Fields series, one of which features a particularly sinister clown.

Tanya has come a long way since her first book - Waking Merlin - was accepted by a publisher. Flotsam and Jetsam, and 100% Pig are just two of her successes.

Children at the library were treated to an hilarious account of the author's own attempts to buy a Vietnamese pot-bellied pig, complete with rugby tackles, a thorough splattering from head to foot in pig poo, and making friends over a bag of raisins. And when asked during her countless visits into schools, where her initial ideas came from and what started her writing children's books, she always replies "Tilly the pot-bellied pig!"

Tanya had an interesting childhood in Gravesend, Kent. "I spent a lot of time up trees with a skipping rope tied around my waist, longing to turn into a monkey," she said.

"The rest of my time was spent waging war against the cruelties of nature. I rescued stranded worms, mended snails' shells with Sellotape, righted beetles, and buried the birds that the cat brought home."

Tanya also spent time working in a zoo dressed up in a bear suit as Kevin the Teddy, and helping at a local arts centre where she had the delightful task of putting up soggy posters in the rain.

The Poppy Fields series of books are aimed at children aged nine plus, but also make light, entertaining reads for older children. One of these books, Mondays are Murder, won both the Red House Book Award and the Leeds Book Award.

There are currently eight in print, the latest hitting the shelves in May of this year.

What made Tanya take the criminal path - in the nicest sense of the word, of course? "After writing 'Apache', and the 'Goldsmith's Daughter', serious historical novels for the young adult, I felt I needed some light relief. So I turned to crime!"

"I've always enjoyed reading murder mysteries: disentangling the lies, the intrigue, the double bluffs, identifying the red herrings - it's as satisfying as completing a huge jigsaw or a tricky crossword puzzle. The notion of writing murder mysteries of my own - Agatha Christie for kids - had been at the back of my mind for a while although I hadn't developed the concept.

"After an operation on my leg I spent a couple of weeks in bed recuperating. It was then that I began to jot down some ideas and once I'd started they came in thick and fast. Dreaming up plots is highly addictive. I can't look at an ornament now without wondering if it would make a good blunt instrument, or enter a building without puzzling over where the body might be discovered. I've had a great time creating this series - it's been wonderfully refreshing. I hope people have as much fun reading them as I had writing them."

Tanya was a great speaker, funny, animated, entertaining, very much a reflection of her work. Anyone interested in learning more about the Poppy Fields books can download a Poppy Fields crime busting pack on the Walker website, www.walker.co.uk/poppyfields.aspx.

Both children and parents enjoyed her talk and signed copies of her latest book were available to buy.

Providing professional expertise for town's young musicians

BAUHAUS Records runs an industry-based music workshop in partnership with Dorchester Youth Centre on a Thursday evenings, courtesy of Shawn Keys and Carl Ashwin.

They run a wide range of mini curriculum, comprising of an educational syllabus created in direct response to the needs of each individual attendee. Workshops are offered in vocal coaching, live performance and confidence building, band development, training for recording artists, and hip hop vocal coaching and track production.

Vocal coaching is carried out by an experienced singer with 25 years' experience. Candidates perform to instrumental backing tracks and focus on the correct mechanics of vocal performance such as breathing and muscle physicality, the sessions carried out in a live environment using a microphone and PA system. This gives the student direct training in live performance, including correct microphone use and exposure to stage technique. They also carry out focus sessions in the studio looking at more specialised techniques that cannot be explored in the live environment.

Live performance and confidence building is a companion to the vocal coaching that focuses on live performance in terms of audience interaction and what to do on stage. The student is taught how to connect to the song and illustrate the "story" with physical gestures like hand movements and facial emotions. This is primarily about developing the performer's confidence to take ownership of their song and present a full package, a very successful way of turning around young people with severe confidence issues. This confidence spreads out into other aspects of their lives as they realise they have the ability to overcome issues that have been hindering their live progress.

Band development focuses on effective rehearsal technique. Many bands have limited time and money to hire rehearsal space so it is important that their time is used efficiently. Guidance is given on how to rehearse and develop songs, focusing on breaking the song down into sections and identifying who within the band needs time to focus on developing a part. It makes the band members aware of each other's contribution, promoting a more coherent awareness within the band. They discuss the use of performance techniques such as dynamics and the need to develop a tight sound, and have had very positive feedback from the bands they have worked with so far.

Hip hop vocal coaching and track production caters for a generalised but growing number of young, predominantly male, performers. Often these artists are from difficult personal circumstances and this brings a specific set of challenges, the aim again to develop an artist's performance in a live environment. It also assists with lyric writing and creating a backing track over which to perform. Again with the label infrastructure in place these projects can be carried out to industry standards and can lead to publishing of recorded material as a global release.

Between Bauhaus Records qualified teaching staff and the provision of qualified youth workers, they understand the needs of young people and have created a programme directly relevant to their interests. The core consideration of their educational provision is that everything they deliver is industry based and happens in an industrial environment with all the professional considerations and expectations this environment brings. They offer an alternative provision to those experienced in school. Bauhaus Night meets the needs of both gifted and abled young people alongside those who are restricted through various emotional issues, and is why their night at the youth club has reached maximum capacity with 100% attendance. Their partnership has a proven record of nearly two years, showing there is a desire locally for such provision.

Coastwatch prevents environmental disaster

SHARP eyes averted an environmental disaster when members of Portland Bill Coastwatch spotted a fully laden Panamanian chemical tanker heading straight for the Shambles Bank.

They quickly alerted coastguards and the tanker was warned she was "standing in to danger" towards the treacherous shingle and sand bank and advised to alter course.

This was just one example of the vitally important work carried out by Coastwatch staff who are coastguards' eyes and ears at Portland Bill.

Their observation post commands views as far as 61 miles to the east with Fawley power station and 62 miles to the west with radio masts near Torquay.

In a single month Coastwatch has been involved with a missing person search, a coaster going over the top of the Shambles, vessels breaking down, cliff incidents and even issuing a warning about loose horses which had got out on to the road.

Shipping from all over the world crosses their vision and shows up on a radar screen which is accurate to within two metres and which shows a vessel's course and speed.

All vessels' identities are revealed on an Automatic Identification System which provides details of every ship's name and which port it is bound for.

One flick of a switch can reveal the position and name of every ship in the Bill's sector of the English Channel.

Coastwatch, which is a registered charity, is entirely manned by voluntary staff and exists solely through charitable donations.

Station manager Geoff Peters said: "We cover 690 square miles of sea with a visible horizon of about 15 miles.

"Sixteen years ago it was decided that a number of coastal coastguard stations would be closed and, two weeks after Bass Point at the Lizard in Cornwall was shut, two young fishermen lost their lives 50 metres from the look-out.

by Harry Walton

"A group of mariners got together and decided to re-open the look-out and that was how National Coastwatch started.

"Portland Bill was the last coastguard station to close in 1995 and we re-opened it in 1997 and now operate 364 days a year.

"In 2004 we rebuilt the original look-out that had been up since 1934 into what it is today.

"We have between 60-70 volunteers from all walks of life from ex-Rear Admirals and nuclear submarine captains to prison officers, doctors and electricians.

"We also monitor weather by the hour which is fed to the coastguard and we work closely with them, the police, immigration officers and drug alliance officers."

Deputy station manager John Watts is currently involved with a special project to put a CCTV camera on Portland Bill lighthouse to monitor vessels using the inshore passage and dangerous Portland Race.

He said: "We currently cannot see the inshore passage which is below our line of sight, so the new camera will be a big help to us."

Volunteers are always needed by Coastwatch, said Geoff, who added that many people who join take on a new lease of life.

He said: "The job we do is vital and we are here to serve the community and mariners who find themselves passing the Bill.

"The Race we look over is among the most notorious in Europe and our mission is to keep our eyes firmly on it to help save lives."

■ At the cheque presentations were, from the left, Society chairman Mike Rodd, Air Ambulance fundraising co-ordinator Annette Plaistow-Traup (correct), Weymouth and Portland Mayor Graham Winter, Society president Dave Lancaster and Help for Heroes local co-ordinator Shelagh Addy

CHEQUES worth more than £1,200 were presented to two charities when Weymouth Vehicle Preservation Society held a rally at the Nothe Fort.

Among those to benefit were the Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance which received £500 and Help for Heroes which received £700.

Society president Dave Lancaster said: "We raised the money through seafront collections and our Dorset Tour event."

"These charities are two really worthwhile causes and we will continue to support Help for Heroes in 2012."

Mr Lancaster also welcomed Weymouth and Portland Mayor Graham Winter to the rally.

He said: "These are two wonderful charities which thoroughly deserve the generous support given here by the Society."

"The air ambulance in particular has helped to save lives locally and deserves every bit of support it can get."

■ Stalls do brisk business at the summer fayre in Greenhill Gardens

Glorious summer fayre at Greenhill Gardens

GLORIOUS sunshine shone down on crowds when they strolled round a summer fayre held in Greenhill Gardens, Weymouth.

The event was staged by the Friends of Greenhill Gardens to raise money for handrails and repairs to gates in the gardens.

Friends spokesman Barbara Dubben said: "We were delighted that so many people came along, particularly as part of our aim is to encourage more people to use the gardens."

Visitors browsed a variety of stalls from cakes to tombola and from jewellery to books, CDs and plants while there was music from a Johnny Cash tribute band.

The Friends' next event will be a fun quiz night at The Lodmoor pub on September 16th at 7.30pm. It is already nearly sold out.

CONNECTIONS

HELPING LOCAL TRADERS BENEFIT EACH OTHER
THROUGH MUTUAL SUPPORT

The Dorford Centre, Dorchester - 11am until 5pm

Mutual Support Among Local Traders

AFTER the huge success of the last "Business To Business" exhibition at Redlands Sports Hub in June, event co organiser Simon Marfell (Stag Office Products) has collaborated this time with Matthew Pye (Bartlepye) to form a new company called Business Connections Dorset Ltd.

The aim of this new venture is to promote "inter business trade", thereby maximizing business opportunities in the "local" area

They intend to achieve this through organising exhibitions, seminars and other marketing events throughout Dorset.

The first exhibition is to focus on Dorchester and will be held on Friday 14th October at The Dorford Centre, Dorchester. This is an ideal venue for this event with parking right opposite in the "Top Of Town" car park. Its central location also offers excellent pedestrian access making this an ideal opportunity for the businesses community to pop in during the working day. Also, being on a Friday and not finishing until 7pm offers potential new business people considering setting up a new business in the area the opportunity to see who is on their own doorstep.

With the support of the Dorchester Chamber of Commerce, The BID Dorchester, WDDC and our media partners Wessex FM and The View from this promises to be an enlightening showcase for Dorchester enterprise.

Business Connections 2011 Dorchester will be open from 11:00am until 5:00pm with free entry for visitors. It will include a wide variety of stands ran by quality local businesses who can offer business services on your doorstep.

Businesses wishing to exhibit are urged to contact Simon Marfell or Matthew Pye at info@bcdorset.co.uk for further details. Stands are being allocated on a first come first served basis.

There once was a man from Limerick

Throughout the spring and summer months View From reporter TOM GLOVER is welcoming all challenges in his column 'Take on Tom'.

This week Tom visited the LOCAL HISTORY CENTRE to trace his past with the help of Bridport Museum's assistant curator Margaret Milree.

THIS week my Take on Tom journey took me back in time as I traced my family tree to the 19th century to discover my Irish blood. Before I arrived, assistant curator Margaret Milree suggested I try and find out as much information I could from my living relatives.

Apparently, some local residents, whose families have lived in the same area for years, can trace their ancestors back centuries in a matter of minutes. I, though, am a first generation local, descended from "grockles", so my history is a little harder to track.

Luckily for me, both sets of my grandparents are still alive. Unluckily for me, they all come from the most complicated of backgrounds. My paternal grandmother, or Nan as I should call her because grandmother makes her sound old apparently, was the daughter of unmarried parents. Her father's first wife was in a mental institution and he took my great grandmother's surname to avoid the stigma attached to children being born out of wedlock. With me so far?

My Nan's mother's background wasn't any simpler, as she was apparently one of 22 children. I've heard of people having enough kids for a five-a-side team but my great great grandmother had enough for two teams to play a full 11-a-side match.

On my maternal grandparents' side the situation is even more complicated. My grandfather was left in a café shortly after his birth and grew up in an orphanage never knowing his real parents. I was worried this could be less like and episode of "Who Do You Think You Are?" and more like "The Jeremy Kyle Show".

Joking aside, both sets of my grandparents grew up in tough times with very little money, in a London that's a world apart from what it is now. My Nan's mother was one of 22 but only one of five who actually reached adulthood and tracing that history is something I find truly interesting.

Now I only had two hours in which to do this and with what I'd already discovered I wasn't expecting to get anywhere fast.

And for the first hour that seemed to be the case. Me and Margaret could get so far and then we'd hit a dead end. To get further we'd need to obtain birth and marriage certificates, this is all possible with the software at the history centre but would take a few weeks to process.

If you have an interest in researching your family tree though, then the local history centre would be an excellent place to start. They have access to a number of online databases, which can be used for tracking your ancestors. The main site they use, ancestry.com, gives digital access to census records and limited access to birth, marriage and death records.

Margaret herself also offers invaluable experience on how to go about your search, so for just £1 an hour the centre provides excellent value for money.

As I neared the end of my two hours though, I'd only managed to get as far back as my great grandparents. I had some leads on my great great grandparents but nothing concrete.

Then Margaret pointed out another excellent feature on the ancestry database - the ability to search through other users' family trees. I typed in the name of my paternal granddad's mother, the unusually named Mary Duhigg, and I hit the ancestral jackpot.

Somewhere else in the world someone had been researching their own Duhigg ancestry and had done all the hardwork for me. I was able to trace my granddad's family line back five generations where I discovered Timothy Duhigg, a London bootmaker who hailed from Limerick, Ireland, home of the comic poem. I don't know why he came to London, my guess is he got fed up of not being able to rhyme anything with his first name. I imagine that would be a nightmare for a man from Limerick.

Timothy had also had a son called Timothy, which incidentally is a habit that makes family tree research a nightmare, who was a leather dresser. I'm not entirely sure what a leather dresser is but I'd like to think he was some kind of 19th century Fonzie from a Cockney "Happy Days".

In a couple of hours I'd managed to trace some of my family line back to the 1830s and I had to drag myself away from the screen when my time was up.

So far, I haven't made any earth shattering discoveries. I doubt I would get my own episode of "Who Do You Think You Are?", but discovering where you come from is a truly addictive process.

Legendary way to say thanks

■ THE LEGEND POLE: Governor the Reverend Canon Doctor Jean Coates, Principal Clare Davison, sculptor Gary Orange, and Kushti Bok chairman Ruth McGill

TO celebrate a relationship formed over the past seven years, Kushti Bok, the gypsy and traveller community group in Dorset has presented Kingston Maurward College with a Legend Pole – a unique cedar sculpture bearing carvings representing the culture of gypsy and traveller people.

Kushti Bok, meaning 'good luck' in Romany, was formed in 2005 to help gypsy and traveller communities to overcome discrimination, isolation and stigma and improve learning opportunities.

The college has worked in partnership with the group to deliver flexible training in qualifications at Levels 1 to 3, and during the project, over 100 gypsies and travellers have achieved qualifications ranging from large goods vehicle driving, hairdressing and beauty therapy, to chain-saw operation, childcare and teaching.

To commemorate the partnership the group asked local sculptor Gary Orange to create the Legend Pole from one piece of cedar depicting familiar images of gypsy and traveller life. Scenes include a pony, caravan and leaves and fruit representing the relationship between travellers and the land.

Now situated in the Alpaca enclosure at Kingston Maurward Animal Park, the Legend Pole was received by college principal Clare Davison and Governor the Reverend Canon Doctor Jean Coates, who said: "We are delighted to have such strong ties with Kushti Bok and the gypsy and traveller communities in Dorset. It is an honour to be presented with such a beautiful piece of work."

Kushti Bok chairman Ruth McGill: "As a group we try to be good ambassadors and wherever possible build bridges between us and settled communities. We are very proud of the relationship we have with Kingston Maurward College and we look forward to continuing a long term education programme for our communities."

NEW CIDER COMPETITION at MELPLASH SHOW

This year the Melplash Show is introducing a new cider section which has been initiated and sponsored by the Powerstock Cider Festival. There are 3 farmhouse cider classes – sweet, medium and dry. Closing date for entries is 19th August 2011.

Said Melplash Agricultural Society,

George Streatfeild, "We are in the heartland of West Country cider and it is said the first cider was brought into England by monks arriving in this area (Abbots Wootton) in the 11th century. If that is even half true, we should be the centre of cider celebration. We are remiss in not doing this before and would like to thank Nick Poole from the Powerstock Cider Festival for putting together the competition for us"

IN 1938, PTH Pickford, Cider Orcharding Advisor to the National Fruit and Cider Institute [Long Ashton Research Station] wrote in an article:

According to many farmers, Dorset was the first county in England to make cider. It is claimed that the art of cider-making was first introduced into this county by monks from northern France who settled in a village near Bridport some time before the Norman Conquest. . . . Whether this be true or not, Dorset certainly ranks with the counties in the West of England which have produced cider for centuries.'

Dairy classes are back at this year's Show

We are very pleased to announce that after an absence of some 5 years Dairy Cattle Classes are back in the Livestock schedule at this year's Melplash Show being held on Thursday 25th August 2011. Being close to the sea our one day agricultural show draws over 20,000 visitors from the locality as well as holiday makers from all over England.

"As one of the main objectives of the Show is to promote food from farming, the return of the Dairy Cattle classes is a welcome addition", said Nigel Jones, Chairman, Melplash Agricultural Society.

Dairy Cattle will be showing alongside a good selection of Continental and British beef breeds classes including Aberdeen Angus, Hereford and Ruby Red Devons, as well as a class for Rare Breeds.

New Family Exhibition at Dorset County Museum

A brand new family exhibition has recently opened at Dorset County Museum. Whirrs, Cogs and Thingamabobs is a collection of over 150 off-beat antique gadgets owned by award-winning collector, Maurice Collins. It runs until 15 October 2011.

Maurice began collecting strange devices and inventions over 30 years ago when he took his son to a rubbish dump near their home to go 'bottle digging'. Since then he has amassed close to 1600 items ranging from a clockwork burglar alarm to an electric hair-restoring comb. He is also the proud owner of two clockwork teasmaids, a finger stretcher and a mechan-cal envelope sealer.

Other fascinating inventions include a pistol purse which housed a hidden compartment containing a pistol with a single bullet designed to fend off unsuspecting highwaymen!

Maurice is also coming into the Museum on Friday 2 September to talk about his amazing collection – the talk will be suitable for all the family and donations of £3 are encouraged to cover costs – children will be admitted free.

Family activities based around the exhibition take place every Wednesday morning in the school summer holidays – the next three are on 17, 24 and 31 August. All are welcome, the cost is just £3 per child, and there is no need to book in advance. The activities start at 10.30am.

While you are there, don't forget to visit the Museum's Tea Room which has a great selection of teas, fresh coffee and soft drinks and of course delicious home-made cakes.

For more information please visit the Museum website on www.dorset-countymuseum.org or phone 01305 262735.

Rose Woodward is an award winning consultant specialising in helping clients who have weight and health issues. Just five years ago, Rose was 14 stone over her ideal weight. She had been diabetic type two for 16 years, on medication for high blood pressure and high cholesterol, her job in the police service was being affected. Rose could not keep as active as she needed to be, and unfortunately, it took a life-changing injury to make Rose take a long look at her life.

After a nasty assault she suffered while on duty, Rose was threatened with being paralysed from the neck down. She began the Cambridge Weight Plan and, only 11 months later, she had lost 14 stone in weight and was free of diabetes, high blood pressure, high cholesterol and all medication.

Since becoming a Cambridge Weight Plan consultant, Rose has helped over 2,000 clients and, with the opening of her Poundbury clinic, is now here to help Dorset residents to move forward to reduce their BMI while retaining vital muscle. Clients who are facing bariatric surgery or pre-arthritis operations also benefit. Rose also works in hospitals to help diabetic patients lose weight safely and effectively, with long term results.

Poundbury Holistic Health Centre also offers aesthetic surgical treatments, a skin centre, detox centre and colonic hydrotherapy, as well as a range of holistic therapies including Indian head massage, reflexology Hopi ear candles, hot stones and much more. importantly in the local area. Our aim is to offer all our clients a service that outshines other estate agents and delivers discretion, trust and absolute reliability. We work closely with solicitors, surveyors, lenders and financial advisors to provide effective solutions from the straight forward to the more complex transaction. Our standards are based on the principal of not just selling houses but helping people to make the right move. We sell homes for people with an emphasis on "homes" and "people".

Phillip Rockford FNAEA CPEA MCMI. Phillip has been in the property business for the past 14 years. Having obtained his CPEA qualifications from the National Association of Estate Agents in 2000. He has managed a number of branches within Dorset and Hampshire and so brings a wealth of knowledge and experience about the current market.

Sue Burden has been selling property for more than two decades, throughout Hampshire, Wiltshire and Dorset. Dorset has been her home for the last 12 years and she has loved working in the Dorchester area for all of that time, managing branches, running new homes sites and assisting developers. Her speciality is land and new homes, although she is equally at home marketing resale properties.

Mariana Hardcastle joined BARTLE PYE RESIDENTIAL bringing over 20 years of Residential Sales experience to the table. Her wealth of experience was largely gained in London - working within some of the top High Street Agencies within the Capital from Clapham through to Chelsea and finally spending approximately nine years heading up the exciting growth of the residential market in and around London and Tower Bridges including Borough Market and Bermondsey.

Having broad experience, we provide specialist advice on planning, building and maintenance, development, valuation, rent reviews and rating. We provide a full range of commercial agency services including sales and acquisitions, leasing and project sales.

A few simple and proactive steps can make all the difference when cleaning your toilet. Many people and organisations (in non customer areas) neglect their toilets - possibly because it is seen as low priority and an unpleasant job. However cleaning your toilets on a regular basis can make all the difference.

Using Cistern blocks which can be less than £1.00 for two can be very effective in cleansing toilet bowls providing they are replenished on a weekly basis, although you could possibly get away with every two or three weeks.

Using toilet cleaner around the toilet bowl just once a day and scrubbing with the toilet brush will also make a big difference if in combination with the use of cistern blocks. You could also use toilet bowl cleaner in urinals like described above as well.

Another important thing to remember is to clean your toilet brush also. If you do not then it will soon become dirty and contaminated with germs, it will also collect dirty water which may well smell after time.

Sinks, mirrors, and, tiles, should not be neglected also. You don't necessarily need to do this every day but make sure that it is done enough to keep it consistently looking presentable for the people who may use your toilets. Remember if a important customer or visitor to your house or business was to see your toilet it would reflect you as an individual or business and could be to your detriment.

Enchanting children's theatre
comes to Bridport Arts Centre

PINOCCHIO, the classic story of one puppet's quest to become a real boy, is heading to Bridport Arts Centre for three shows - Thursday, August 25th, 4pm, Friday, August 26th, 11am & Saturday, August 27th, 2.30pm

Presented by Cube Theatre, the new adaptation by Ben Oldfield, brings to life the captivating tale of the wooden puppet as he falls in with an assortment of colourful characters who all try to lead him astray.

The magical production delights children and adults alike with its spellbinding puppetry, original music and hilarious antics. A great day for the whole family, the mesmerising piece of physical theatre, suitable for children 4 - 11 years old, is a memorable and entertaining piece of children's theatre that delights the audience from start to finish.

After the show, children will have an opportunity to meet the puppets and see how the magic unfolds.

Tickets are available from Bridport Arts centre box office and cost £10 for adults, £6 children, £7 for members and £30 for family tickets.

The Pirates of Penzance

THIS summer Illyria theatre company delivers yet another first for the UK open-air touring theatre circuit: Gilbert and Sullivan's comic tale of romance between a pirate and the daughter of a major general.

Frederick, apprenticed to the Pirates since a child, reaches the age of 21 and announces to the Pirate King that it is his duty leave them, to seek his fortune in a more wholesome way than piracy, and to kill them if he should ever see them again. He reaches land and encounters Major Stanley's beautiful daughters, falling in love with Mabel, the most beautiful of them. But then he learns that he was born on 29th February, and that he is contracted to the Pirate King until his 21st Birthday, not his 21st year...

First performed on December 31st 1879, the hilarious melodrama, sharp satire and glittering wit of "The Pirates of Penzance" make it as fresh as though it had been written today. Packed with laughter, romance and a galleon-full of memorable songs such as "To be a Pirate King!", "Modern Major General" and "A Policeman's Lot is Not a Happy One", this wonderful classic gets the complete Illyria treatment. It is faithfully performed by a reduced cast of highly talented actor-musicians and accompanied by a Musical Director.

The performance takes place at The Millennium Green, Bridport on Wednesday, August 24th from 7pm. Bring, chairs, rugs and a picnic. Tickets cost £14, £12 for members, £8 for concs., or £40 family.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

"Those who dream by day are cognizant of many things which escape those who dream only by night."

Edgar Allan Poe

POETS are sometimes described as dreamers and most have written poems on the subject of dreaming and day dreaming. Our first example is by D H Lawrence.

DREAMS

*All people dream, but not equally.
Those who dream by night in the dusty recesses
of their mind,
Wake in the morning to find that it was vanity.*

*But the dreamers of the day are dangerous people,
For they dream their dreams with open eyes,
And make them come true.
Edgar Allan Poe wrote several verses on the subject of dreams, including this one.*

*A Dream within a Dream
Take this kiss upon the brow!
And, in parting from you now,
Thus much let me avow--
You are not wrong, who deem
That my days have been a dream;
Yet if hope has flown away
In a night, or in a day,
In a vision, or in none,
Is it therefore the less gone?
All that we see or seem
Is but a dream within a dream.
I stand amid the roar
Of a surf-tormented shore,
And I hold within my hand
Grains of the golden sand--
How few! yet how they creep
Through my fingers to the deep,
While I weep--while I weep!
O God! can I not grasp
Them with a tighter clasp?
O God! can I not save
One from the pitiless wave?
Is all that we see or seem
But a dream within a dream?*

During the Great War Siegfried Sassoon wrote about the dreams of the men in the trenches.

DREAMERS

*Soldiers are citizens of death's gray land,
Drawing no dividend from time's to-mor-*

*rows.
In the great hour of destiny they stand,
Each with his feuds, and jealousies, and sorrows.
Soldiers are sworn to action; they must win
Some flaming, fatal climax with their lives.
Soldiers are dreamers; when the guns begin
They think of firelit homes, clean beds, and wives.*

*I see them in foul dug-outs, gnawed by rats,
And in the ruined trenches, lashed with rain,
Dreaming of things they did with balls and bats,
And mocked by hopeless longing to regain
Bank-holidays, and picture shows, and spats,
And going to the office in the train.*

A hundred years earlier the great English romantic poet, Percy Bysshe Shelley wrote this.

I ARISE FROM DREAMS OF THESE

*I arise from dreams of thee
In the first sweet sleep of night,
When the winds are breathing low,
And the stars are shining bright
I arise from dreams of thee,
And a spirit in my feet
Has led me -- who knows how? --
To thy chamber-window, sweet!*
*The wandering airs they faint
On the dark, the silent stream, --
The champak odours fall
Like sweet thoughts in a dream,
The nightingale's complaint,
It dies upon her heart,
As I must die on thine,
O, beloved as thou art!*
*O, lift me from the grass!
I die, I faint, I fall!
Let thy love in kisses rain
On my lips and eyelids pale,
My cheek is cold and white, alas!
My Heart beats loud and fast
Oh! press it close to thine again,
Where it will break at last!*

Driver Swing Analysis and Fitting Centre officially open at Lyme Regis Golf Club

DUNCAN Driver, Head Professional at Lyme Regis Golf Club and Dorset Academy head coach has now officially opened his new academy teaching and fitting room. The Room is full of high-speed cameras and launch monitors which allow us to build up an accurate picture of what your shot is doing at impact and throughout its flight.

The equipment, coupled with advanced computer software such as Gasp and Ping N-flight (one of only a few in the UK) allows us to fit golf clubs with a new level of accuracy, but also to teach more accurately with information that isn't visible to the naked eye.

Special Promotion

As a special promotion to run alongside the opening of the fitting room the first 50 fittings will be free of charge! We are stockists of most major brands, and have comprehensive demo equipment available in: Callaway, Titleist and Ping to help aid club fittings.

Lyme Regis Golf Club have recently been recognised as high achievers of the GolfMark Award. GolfMark is a national scheme that identifies and recognises junior and beginner friendly golf facilities, and assesses golf clubs on three key areas. These are coaching and playing, club environment (including sports equity & ethics), and Child Protection and Duty of Care.

Having achieved this prestigious recognition along with the new state of the art Swing Analysis and Fitting Centre, Lyme Regis Golf Club really stands out as one of the best places in not only the county, but the whole country, to learn and develop your game.

With Duncan's expertise the junior academy at the club is thriving and going from strength to strength. The new academy starts in September and any youngsters interested in joining and taking up the game should call the club now on 01297 442963.

Lyme Regis Golf Club is also fortunate enough to have been given some funding from the English Golf Union, which it has used to help provide lessons for adults who are complete beginners. All equipment is provided all you have to do is turn up. Unsurprisingly these sessions proved extremely popular and are currently fully booked, but keep your eyes peeled for new sessions starting soon.

Lyme Regis Golf Club

WE believe we have one of the best golf courses in the South West and one of the finest locations in all Britain. The course occupies a cliff top site with coastal views to Portland Bill and looks down on the historic town and World Heritage Site of Lyme Regis. The condition of the course is the source of constant praise from visiting golfers and is to the credit of our team of expert and dedicated greens staff.

Although on the top of a plateau the course itself is not actually hilly and golfers can enjoy an exhilarating round of golf and some magnificent views.

The Club was founded in 1893. Owing to an on-going battle with coastal erosion the course has been the subject of several changes in design. The Committee constantly keeps the course design under review and is dedicated to maintaining Lyme Regis as one of the premier golfing facilities in the area.

We have a new driving range, available to visitors and a separate chipping area and practice bunker close to the first tee.

The men's competition course measures 6283 yards. It has four par 3 and three par 5 holes giving a par of 71 and a SSS of 70.

The ladies' competition course is 5685 yards and has four par 3 and five par 5 holes giving a par of 73 and a SSS of 74.

Full catering facilities ranging from a-la-carte menu to all day hot and cold snacks are available in our clubhouse; which has a lounge, dining-room, spike bar and extensive changing and locker area.

The bar is open from 11am to 10.30pm (shorter hours in the winter months)

Our professional's shop, located in the front hall can provide all your needs to accompany your golf round.

Visitors welcome, please call the Club Secretary for further information.

A truly original cider festival

HAVE you heard the whispering in the trees? Seen the posters on the hills? Do you know what's happening down at The Acorn Inn of Evershot this August bank holiday weekend?

For some time now, a small group of dedicated folk have been beavering away to produce a truly original Cider festival for their local community. There isn't a nearby business or Cider farm that hasn't recently been badgered for their produce to help make this event better than its 2010 predecessor.

The philosophy on said occasion comes from childhood memories of both Gundog and Birds of Prey displays and the unbridled joy of ferret racing, this is sure to be a Cider festival beyond comparison.

They have purposely steered themselves away from the traditional drinks festival ideal of quantity over quality and have instead tried to capture what it is that makes their funny little B-Road section of Blighty so great! Something that is appealing to all and not just a few.

With performances from three local bands, appearances of both Gundog and Birds of Prey displays and the unbridled joy of ferret racing, this is sure to be a Cider festival beyond comparison.

Of course there is also the silent auction in aid of the air ambulance, the apple cake baking contest and the pub quiz – not to mention the cider!

Call 01935 83228 or pop in for more details.

THE White Cottage is a very pretty detached period cottage situated on the edge of one West Dorset's most sought-after villages.

The cottage is full of character features which include wooden latch doors, exposed beams, window seats and an inglenook fireplace. Believed to date back to the mid 1700s, with an extension added in 1970, the cottage has generous and flexible ground floor accommodation. The sitting room has a wonderful inglenook fireplace with original bread oven and a multi-fuel burner inset. Further to this there is a music room with French doors to the garden, a study to the rear and a useful rear lobby/workshop/potting room with door to the garden. The kitchen has a dining area and there is a ground floor bathroom/utility room. Both of the first floor bedrooms are double rooms, with the master having double aspect windows. Most of the windows are double-glazed, with a mixture of recently installed timber framed double-glazed units and some UPVC to the rear. The central heating is oil-fired.

The property is situated in a cul-de-sac in the pretty village of Puncknowle in the beautiful Bride Valley. The house is well presented with re-fitted kitchen and bathroom, uPVC double glazing and solid fuel central heating. The property benefits from replacement uPVC windows and doors. SITUATED in a desirable cul-de-sac on the western side of the town, Border Lodge is an individual detached house built in 1994. The house has been well maintained by the present owners who have added a good sized uPVC double glazed conservatory across the rear of the property to take advantage of the views across the garden and to the sea. The kitchen, en-suite and shower room have all been recently refitted.

The accommodation with fitted Axminster carpets and laminate wood flooring briefly comprises. Entrance hall, cloakroom, lounge, large uPVC double glazed conservatory, kitchen/dining room, study and utility room. On the first floor is the master bedroom with en-suite with bath and shower. Two further double bedrooms and an additional family shower room. Externally there is parking for several cars and a detached double garage. From the sunny rear garden and patio there are views to the sea.

Lyme Regis is famed for its many historic connections and character buildings, and of course, for its well known Cobb Harbour. As a resort, it is considered quite unspoilt, but has most of the shops and amenities that one could require, in addition to which there are numerous leisure activities including both sailing and power boat clubs, a cliff top golf course and a bowling club. The whole coastline with Lyme Regis and Charmouth at its centre has recently been designated a World Heritage Site (The Jurassic Coast), putting it in the same category as the Grand Canyon. It lies approximately 5 miles from the market town of Axminster, with its main line railway connections to Waterloo (Approx. 2 3/4 hours). Taunton and Exeter are within a radius of about 30 miles with access to the M5 motorway and the county town of Dorchester is a similar distance.

Citroën faces new challenge

FOR the first time in the history of the World Rally Championship, Citroën has achieved the feat of winning seven events in a row.

The Citroën DS3 WRC, unbeaten on gravel, now faces a new challenge on tarmac in Germany. Sébastien Loeb and Daniel Elena, who have never lost in Trier, start the ninth round as favourites. In their wake, Sébastien Ogier and Julien Ingrassia will also be out to maintain Citroën Racing's supremacy.

After starting the 2011 season on snow followed by a series of seven victories on gravel, the Citroën DS3 WRCs will make their competition debut on Tarmac in the 'Rallye Deutschland'.

Since the German event became part of the Rally World Championship in 2002, Citroën, Sébastien Loeb and Daniel Elena have never been beaten and have run up a string of eight victories.

Having won the last seven rallies this season, Citroën has also pulled out a lead of 65 points in the Manufacturers' World Championship classification. Sébastien Loeb and Daniel Elena who emerged victorious in Rally Finland at the end of July, lead the Drivers/Co-drivers rankings by 27 points. Sébastien Ogier and Julien Ingrassia are currently lying third, 31 points behind their team-mates.

"Some Tarmac at last," smiles Sébastien Loeb, who has been dominant on this surface for more than five years. "I know that everybody will be gunning for me in Germany. We've never been beaten on these roads but the winning streak has to come to an end one day. It's up to us to make sure it doesn't this time out!"

"None of the sectors are alike", continues the driver from Alsace. "There are three very distinct parts with the military camp, the vines and the country roads."

"Generally speaking, the stages are very quick and demanding. We're up against a real challenge. It's vital to have good notes and to be in perfect sync with your co-driver to win."

Škoda breaks 200mph barrier on Utah salt flats

- ŠKODA Octavia vRS breaks through the 200 mph barrier
- World's fastest ŠKODA hits 202.15 mph on legendary American salt flats to mark ten years of vRS
- ŠKODA Bonneville team now focuses its attention on the '2.0-litre production car' record of 216 mph

ŠKODA's Octavia vRS has become the latest member to join Bonneville's legendary 200 mph club.

The 500 bhp 'salt spec' challenger – built to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the iconic vRS performance flagship badge – pushed its way through the 200 mph barrier, four days ahead of schedule.

In doing so the car, dubbed the 'vRS Bonneville Special', has become the fastest ŠKODA ever.

The Octavia vRS achieved an impressive 195.69 mph on its first run of the day. On the car's sixth official outing at Bonneville Speed Week (13-20), the Octavia vRS propelled itself to an impressive 202.15 mph.

Ahead of the event at the world famous salt flats the brand's UK technical team – who prepared the car in Milton Keynes – arrived in Salt Lake City, Utah to finalise months of hard work and preparation.

In an environment where bhp is king and traction loss is your nemesis, the car underwent a rigorous dyno programme with the assistance of performance software and tuning outfit specialist REVO Technik.

Driven by journalist Richard Meaden, the Octavia had demonstrated its potential on Sunday, August 14th, powering its way to 191 mph securing all four speed licenses required before heading to the magical 200 mph barrier.

Robert Hazelwood, Director for ŠKODA UK, said: "Months of rigorous planning, testing and preparation have all been worthwhile.

"At 13:24 on Monday, August 15th, we took our Octavia vRS past the 200 mph barrier. The entire team has done an outstanding job. Our special thanks go to Richard on an incredible drive.

"This marks another exciting milestone in the brand's motorsport achievements and is a great way to celebrate ten years of the vRS range and commemorate 110 years of ŠKODA's participation in motorsport."

With four days remaining the team is now focusing their efforts on closing the gap on the 2.0-litre production car record which stands at 216 mph.

The Octavia vRS Bonneville Special

The car is a factory-fresh production Octavia vRS, with some changes made to improve aerodynamics and performance.

That includes lowering the ride height to run almost 80mm closer to the ground and a new sub-frame which houses a race prepared intercooler. It retains its production-standard 2.0-litre four-cylinder TSI petrol engine, with the standard turbo replaced with a large unit from respected component firm Garrett.

Generating over 500 BHP, and producing 30+ PSI of boost pressure, the Bonneville Octavia vRS drinks high-octane race fuel (with water methanol mix) rather than unleaded petrol.

The unique racer has been built to stringent Southern California Timing Association (SCTA) safety regulations, which means a reinforced roll cage, parachute, fire extinguishers and window cage.

Since its launch in 2001, vRS has captured the hearts of UK motorists who enjoy the thrill of sports car driving.

Since then, the UK has become ŠKODA's largest market for the Octavia and Fabia vRS with more than 12,000 cars sold since launch.

Brighton to Russia on a 125... and still going

ANTHONY Jackson is on a mammoth journey for charity across all sorts of terrain to the capital of Mongolia, on a Chinese built Sinnis Apache 125!

So far he's ridden all the way from Goodwood in England 7,000 miles through 11 countries on his way to Mongolia.

Currently Anthony and the Apache have made it to Barnaul - his last city in Russia before reaching the Mongolian border, saying "I travelled across France, Belgium, Germany then into the Czech Republic, through Austria, Hungary, Slovakia, then Poland... Ukraine and now Russia."

Riding as much as 14 hours in a day and covering as much as 2,500 miles in just four days, both bike and rider are being tested like never before.

He's been chased away from campsites and forced to wait at borders for days as he chose not to pay the $1,000 to $2,000 fines for apparent 'invalid paperwork' but he's kept his nerve and made it through with just the delay.

The only issues he has had with the bike, apart from the school boy error of running out of fuel in Germany, has been with a fork leg. Anthony managed to damage it when servicing the bike in a car park, but was fortunate enough to get a replacement part from a local dealer in the Ukraine. Very handy considering he doesn't have a support vehicle.

Describing the current leg of the Mongol Rally Anthony says: "Russia has been tough, hot, dirty, smoggy and literally thousands of trucks trying to push you out of the way!"

"Police everywhere, there's nowhere to buy food just filling stations. I'm coughing up black dirt! I've covered most of southern Russia in a few days, am very tired but bike's been great!"

Anthony says the quality of the roads has been degenerating throughout the journey, and they actually disappeared when he crossed the last border to Mongolia, saying: "Unfortunately the border I'm registered with has very bad roads... i.e. none." - so this is when the challenge steps up a gear!

Anthony has had to rely on his gear supplied by many sponsors including Ocford Products, Akito, Nitro, LS2 helmets, Lazer helmets, Silkolene, Putoline, Forcefield armour, Bike it, Lloyd Lifestyle and many dealers have all played their part and I am so grateful!"

You can follow Anthony's journey via his page www.facebook.com/anthonyadventure or support his cause at www.justgiving.com/ant-jack55 to help raise money for Leukemia Research.

Disappointment for Bluebird Electric team

Bad weather hampers land speed record challenge

SINCE 1924 the Campbell family have used the Pendine sand in Carmarthenshire, Wales as the home for their Bluebird record attempts.

During the weekend of August 13th and 14th, Don Wales – grandson of the celebrated Malcolm Campbell and nephew of Donald Campbell – and his son Joseph returned to the iconic seven-mile stretch of beach in an attempt to add another entry to the history books.

Organising a Land Speed Record attempt is an epic logistical feat before a wheel has even turned.

The team has faced countless hurdles in their quest for speed; delayed component parts, cancelled runs, tight budgets, limited testing and too few hours in a day.

Not to mention the inherently short window of time between low tides at Pendine and the unpredictability of the weather.

Saturday, August 13th wasn't just the 2011 Bluebird Electric's first time on Pendine, it was only the second time Joe Wales had got behind the wheel of the vehicle.

Weather conditions on the day hampered the exploratory runs but provided plenty of valuable experience for the young driver.

A blue sky on Sunday put the Bluebird team in good spirits and Don was keen to give Joe the opportunity to enter the record books himself.

Sadly, the return leg of a fast outward run was brought to a premature end. Limited visibility within the cockpit of Bluebird and an alarming slide towards the sea at speeds in excess of 100mph caused the car to bounce severely on the uneven surface and hit a soft pothole of sand.

The resulting impact damaged the bodyshell, steering components and disconnected a bottom wishbone.

Only Joe's natural talent for car control on soft sand and quick reactions meant the damage on impact was as minimal as it was and that Jo was un-harmed.

"When you can't see the ground in front of you for 60 metres or 70 metres you're in trouble before you've seen it," said Don Wales after the accident.

Unfortunately, incoming tides meant the car could not be repaired on site in time to run again.

Bluebird Electric is the culmination of months of tireless effort from the engineers at Bluebird Automotive with valuable assistance from the University of Bristol, Swansea Metropolitan University and Tirius Ltd.

Bluebird is powered by 300 Nickel-cadmium Vented cell batteries, channelled into two Brushless permanent magnetic motors, each producing 200kW of peak power and a total of 1100Nm peak torque.

But Bluebird would not have even been able to attempt a record at Pendine if it weren't for support the support crew from the Discovery Owners Club and a team of volunteer Fodders who cleared the beach of debris before Bluebird could run.

More than 50 enthusiasts gave up their weekend to ensure the beach – also used for live testing by the Ministry of Defence – was safe. The Bluebird team also want to thank everyone who turned up over the weekend to show their support, and sponsors Castrol, Aggreko, Bluestone, Goodyear, Dura, Ford, Southern Springs, Dickies, Phase Vision and Honour Motorsport as well as the countless other local businesses who contributed to making the effort possible.

Despite the unfortunate circumstances of the weekend, Don Wales remains optimistic that Bluebird Electric will return to Pendine for another shot at record breaking: "We'll take the car back to Pembroke Docks and see what need to be fixed and where we go from here.

"We're a small team with a lot of volunteer help and severely struggling with finance. Hopefully we can secure sponsorship to ensure the project still has life in it. But the important thing is that Joe is well."

There will be a number of opportunities to see Bluebird after the Pendine Speed trials. The public can get up close with the vehicle at this year's Ecovelocity Low Carbon Motor Festival from the September 8th-11th at Battersea Power Station and on Regent Street as part of the RAC Future Car Challenge on Saturday, November 5th.

To show your support for the Bluebird team and get behind it for a potential return to Pendine, visit www.bluebirdspeedrecords.com and follow them at www.twitter.com/bluebirdspeed and <http://www.facebook.com/bluebirdspeedrecords>

Silverstone Classic sets new Jaguar record

THE 2011 Silverstone Classic (July 22nd-24th) broke many records, but the biggest accolade for the event comes after Guinness World Records confirmed that a new record was set for the 'largest parade of Jaguar cars' when 767 Jaguar E-types took part in a special parade lap of the Silverstone Grand Prix circuit.

On-track, a total of 1,104 race car entries and a crowd of 80,000 across the weekend ensured that the Silverstone Classic proudly lived up to its claim of being the 'the world's biggest classic motor racing festival'.

But that was only part of the story for this sensational event, as thousands of classic cars packed into the Silverstone infield to be part of the world's biggest celebration of automotive heritage.

The 2011 event was the major celebration of the 50th birthday of the Jaguar E-type, first produced in 1961.

More than 1000 E-types were on site and the vast majority of these took to the Grand Prix circuit on Saturday for a unique parade.

Although in excess of 800 E-types took to the famous grand prix track, the record of 767 is based on the number of participating cars meeting the strict record verification criteria.

Getting over 800 gleaming E-types on and off the Silverstone track presented a considerable logistical challenge and the result was an unrivalled display of one of the most beautiful sports cars ever produced.

Owners came from across Europe, from North America, Mexico and Australia to take part in this once-in-a-lifetime event.

Among the parade were some very special examples of the E-type. These included famous E-types with registration numbers 9600 HP, 77 RW and 848 CRY as well as the Lindner/Nocker low-drag racer.

9600 HP is the oldest surviving E-type and the only 1960 prototype in existence. It was the original launch car, the 150 mph road test car and the subject of the book 'The Most Famous Car in the World'.

77 RW is the earliest surviving production roadster and an original press car.

848 CRY was the twelfth roadster produced and the most active racing E-type in 1961; it also appeared in the film The Italian Job.

The Lindner/Nocker low-drag lightweight racer was one of the 12 original Lightweight E-types, raced in 1963/64 by Peter Lindner and Peter Nocker and the subject of a famous recent restoration.

However, the Silverstone Classic was not just about the Jaguar E-type as over 7,000 classic cars from 120 clubs filled the venue in a stunning display of automotive design, development and passion.

Many of the clubs present were celebrating anniversaries, including 75 years of the Bentley Drivers' Club, 25 years of the BMW M3 with the BMW Car Club UK, 60 years of the Morgan Sports Car Club, 75 years of the BMW 328 with Historic BMW, 50 years of the Porsche Club GB and 50 years of Reliant sports cars with the Reliant Sabre and Scimitar Owners' Club.

"The whole Silverstone Classic weekend set many new records, both on and off the track," said event director Nick Wigley.

"The icing on the cake is to have achieved a new Guinness World Record for the number of Jaguars on parade.

"It was an incredible sight to see so many examples of the beautiful and iconic E-type four abreast stretching all around the full Silverstone Grand Prix circuit."

● THE Silverstone Classic has firmly established as the world's biggest classic motor racing festival and celebrated its 21st anniversary in style this summer with 80,000+ spectators and a record number of race entries totalling more than 1,100 of the world's most iconic racing F1, GT, touring and sportscars from the past.

The spectacular three-day event is staged at the famous Silverstone circuit, birthplace of the FIA Formula One World Championship and home of the 2011 Formula 1 Santander British Grand Prix.

DERBY-DAY DOUBLE FOR DORCHESTER

Dorset Funeral Plan League Premier League

WEYMOUTH 169 ALL OUT

LOST TO DORCHESTER 173-4 BY SIX WICKETS

DORCHESTER duly completed the double over near neighbours Weymouth at Redlands as Pete Moxom hit his second big score in three innings to steer the county town to an easy six wicket victory.

Moxom had scored 121 against Broadstone two weeks ago, and followed this up with a superb 84 after Michael Pearce (2-27) had trapped both Rob Waite and Shaun Little leg before wicket to leave Dorchester wobbling at 22-2 in reply to Weymouth's total of 169 all out.

Some tight Dorchester bowling, initially from openers Dan Belt (2-26 from ten) and James Dunham (4-34 from 8.5) and then Little (1-23) and Waite (1-28) in their ten over allocations meant Weymouth were always struggling to set a good target.

Both openers; Jim Ryall (1) and Kieron Womble (2) had departed with the score on 15, and although there were good contributions from Dean Janaway (20), skipper Tom England with a defiant 49, and Faraz Ullah (32), only 36 extras help swell their total.

In reply Moxom was joined by Belt (38 not out) and together they put on 87 for the third wicket before Will McKay (2-25) bowled Moxom and then took a return catch off Lee Haynes (2) to leave Dorchester 113-4, but skipper Martyn Richards (25 not out) was not phased and he and Belt saw them home with 12 overs to spare.

The result virtually ensures Dorchester will finish third in the Premier League, and although the Seasideers are dangerously near the bottom, it would need Ferndown Wayfarers having to secure maximum points in their last two matches to have any chance at all of saving themselves.

Division One

HAMWORTHY REC 201-9 BEAT

WEYMOUTH 2ND 140 ALL OUT BY 61 RUNS

RELEGATED Weymouth 2nd's crashed to their 11th defeat of the season in a mediocre display against Hamworthy Rec who totalled 201-9 before dismissing the Seasideers for 140.

Division Two

CRANBORNE 161-9 BEAT BEAMINSTER 160 ALL OUT BY ONE WICKET
A BOUNDARY off the penultimate ball of the match condemned Beaminster to relegation at Cranborne.

The visitors needed to win to keep their hopes of avoiding the drop for the third successive season, but after four dot balls Rickaby edged skipper Ross Baker's fifth ball to the boundary to secure Cranborne's Division Two status next season.

Baker won the toss and decided to bat on a green wicket which was painfully slow with variable bounce, and although three of the top four batsmen; Fred Everitt (26), Simon Jones (31) and Colin Lloyd (31) all played well, they could not make a telling score. They, together with Baker (6) all fell to the combination of wicketkeeper Ingram (two caught, two stumped) off the bowling of Arnold (4-46), as Beaminster were finally bowled out for 160 all out off the last ball of their 45 allotted overs.

Cranborne's openers played with freedom as runs flowed at the start of their reply, before Rich Rynard brilliantly ran out Payne (16), one of two batsmen he dismissed with direct hits.

They too lost wickets regularly with Jones (3-28 off 12 overs) the pick of the Beaminster bowlers as the game ebbed and flowed. However with four wanted for victory off the last over, it was Cranborne were celebrating a reprise.

Baker said: "We had our chances and it is a game we could have won, but we don't have the confidence to finish it off. It's the story of our season I guess; we are just not clinical enough."

DORCHESTER 2ND 183 ALL OUT

LOST TO WIMBORNE & COLEHILL 2ND 184-1 BY NINE WICKETS

DORCHESTER 2nds dropped two places towards the bottom of the league following their heavy defeat to Wimborne & Colehill 2nds who along with Cranborne, winners against Beaminster, climb above them.

After a promising start to the season, the county town have lost six of the last eight completed matches and whilst they cannot be relegated, will be disappointed with their recent form.

Division Three

BRIDPORT 56 ALL OUT

LOST TO MARTINSTOWN 57-3 BY SEVEN WICKETS

A DEVASTATING spell of bowling from stand-in captain Danny Dancer ripped the heart out of Bridport's batting, and then to rub salt into the wounds of his hosts he then steadied the Martinstown reply after Ashley Nicholls (3-16) hit back with three quick wickets.

Dancer was almost unplayable as he took 5-4 from five overs, three of them maidens.

Bridport had started steadily with Liam Toohill (26) and captain Mark Smith (6) putting on 30 for the first wicket, but the introduction of Dancer supported by Matt Camp (5-17 from seven overs) brought immediate dividends as Bridport were dismissed for just 56 in 19 overs with Wes Lewis (10) the only other player to get into double figures.

In reply Martinstown lost Ed Nichols and Stuart Fry for ducks in a Nicholls double wicket maiden that left them 0-2, but with Henry Lewis digging in by staying undefeated with 6 not out from 63 balls, it allowed Sam Kershaw (15) and Dancer to ensure the visitors maintained their second spot and condemned Bridport to relegation.

Injured Martinstown skipper Nick Quintrell said: "After overnight rain Danny had no hesitation in deciding to field and unsurprisingly both Chris and Stuart got the new ball to bounce and nip about."

"Liam Toohill in particular looked in good touch at the top of the order but it was a pitch that nobody could feel secure on. Matt Camp and Danny came into the attack and got the ball to swing and nip around and Bridport collapsed from 30-0 to 56 all out in the space of 11 overs. Our bowling was once again immaculate and our fielding close to, with six catches from six chances."

"Bridport had no option but to attack and Ashley Nicholls was worthy of his three wickets but Henry held his end up and Sam and Danny scored the required runs with little cause for panic. This result keeps us well in the hunt for promotion and we are hopeful of finishing the season in style."

A dejected Smith who announced that he would be standing down as captain after his last game of the season next week said: "After a good couple of weeks with the bat we returned to the poor batting again."

It was not the toss to lose after the overnight rain which made the wicket a bowling track. After a reasonable start from Liam Toohill in an opening partnership of 30, it all went drastically wrong.

Losing the toss showed its true potential when Ashley Nicholls made it 0-2 with a double wicket maiden which made the Martinstown batsman a bit nervous, but in the end we were 90 runs short.

STANDING DOWN:
Bridport 1st XI captain
Mark Smith.

"We have proved we are more than capable of playing at this level, so I hope the guys have learnt some lesson and come back next year and show their true abilities. In the last two remaining games I would like us to firstly enjoy playing and also show some of the ability I know we have. Next week's game will be my last of the season and last as captain, and I would like to thank the lads for an enjoyable and yet frustrating season as skipper."

CATTISTOCK 179-2 BEAT PARLEY

2ND 173-8 BY EIGHT WICKETS

CATTISTOCK ensured safety with this convincing victory over Parley who they leapfrog.

A solid 88 not out from Joe Baggs and an entertaining 60 not out from James England that included six 6's, one of which was described as the biggest seen on the ground for many a year, saw the hosts pass Parley's target in less than 28 overs.

Only skipper Mark Luther (35) and Tom Andrews with 28 including three 6's showed any real threat to the Cattistock bowling led by Martin Langford (3-28) and Bradley Damon (3-31).

Division Four

BEAMINSTER 2ND 200-8 LOST TO KINGSTON LACY 201-2 BY EIGHT WICKETS

DESPITE another defeat for Beaminster 2nd's, it took until the 43rd over for Kingston Lacy to overhaul the host's creditable total of 200-8.

Batting first Beaminster started slowly, losing an early wicket, but their total was built on a century partnership between Dave Hall (77) and Dan Hillier (65) which also followed a cautious start. Their contribution together with a few cameo performances gave the Beaminster bowlers a chance despite some nagging line and length bowling from veterans Barry Park and Dave Priddle.

Despite lacking real bowling depth, Josh and Joe Singleton worked hard, and backed up by a mean spell from Hillier who bowled his 12 overs right through conceding an average of only three runs per over, it needed the all round batting guile of Park to ease the visitors through.

Captain Hugh Rathbone said: "Despite the loss this was an excellent game played in the right spirit."

BROADSTONE 3RD BEAT WEYMOUTH 3RD WHO SCRATCHED

BOTTOM of the table Weymouth 3rds scratched for the second time this season.

Division Five

DORCHESTER 3RD 138-9 LOST TO

CHRISTCHURCH 2ND 139-6 BY FOUR WICKETS

DORCHESTER fielded seven players under the age of 15, with four players playing their first senior match at the age of 13. Despite this they only lost by four wickets with only three overs left in a fascinating game which included five catches for the opposition captain Chris Campbell and a majestic 41 from Dorchester's 13-year-old wicketkeeper Will Caldwell.

Batting first Dorchester were soon 22-2 against the fiery Christchurch opening bowlers, and it was the senior heads of Jae Miller and George Thomas who batted sensibly to see off the opening pair. However the partnership was broken with the score on 57 with the introduction of spin from Pete Etheridge who had Miller well caught by Campbell at mid off. Thirty runs were added between Thomas (27) and Will Caldwell (41) before the former was again well caught by Campbell diving forward at mid-off.

Dorchester soon found themselves 97-6 as the spin of Etheridge (3-13) bamboozled the young middle order. It was only Will Caldwell who stroked the ball around with great maturity, farming the bowling despite his tender age, who was able to score freely. Caldwell was eventually out for an excellent 41 when he top edged a sweep to the admirable Christchurch wicketkeeper James Dear. Captain Pete Tucker (12) and debutant Matt Stevens (3) added 20 valuable runs at the end of the Dorchester innings.

Dorchester's teenage attack of Taylor Quinten and Matt Stevens both struck early, dismissing both Christchurch openers with the score on 32; both catches being taken by Will Caldwell behind the stumps. A 50run partnership was added by the experienced Neil Marsh (33) and Mal Ratnakumar (42) before the latter was well caught by Dan Morris off Sam Roles. Callum Tucker (2-31) then struck twice to remove the middle order to leave the visitors 94-5, Caldwell snapping up a smart catch standing up to the wicket and the Tucker father and son combination accounting for the other. The young Dorchester team smelt a chance of victory when the leg spin of Luke Voss eventually saw the end of Marsh with the score on 109-6.

With thirty runs needed for victory it was Glen Harvey who hit a quickfire 30 to claim the victory for Christchurch.

Captain Pete Tucker said: "I was so proud of the performances that the young lads put in during the game; their fielding was of such a high standard for their age in senior cricket. Matt Stevens (13) opened the bowling on debut and bowled a great line and deserved his wicket. James Caldwell would have also claimed a wicket if I had not dropped a catch, for which I can only apologise."

"Dan Morris is following in his dad's footsteps into a Dorchester team and bowled well only conceding five runs from his three over spell. The find of the season so far has to be batsmen-wicketkeeper Will Caldwell, who in only his second match scored 41 without giving a chance, and then took three good catches behind the stumps."

"It would be unfair not to mention seasoned campaigners of Callum Tucker (17) Taylor Quinten (15) and Sam Roles (15) who showed their true colours during the game."

The Christchurch captain was certainly impressed and congratulated our young lads for taking a much senior team right to the end before being defeated, and believes the future looks very bright for Dorchester Cricket Club"

Division Six

ABBOTSBURY 88 ALL OUT LOST

TO WAREHAM 92-1 BY NINE WICKETS

VETERAN Robin Potter warned last week that Abbotsbury would have to play much better to have any chance against promotion-chasing Wareham.

Well, they didn't and this led to a thorough pasting. Batting first after being put in, the home side never got to grips with the conditions and the swing of the Wareham opening attack, particularly M Tulloch (4-18) Abbotsbury reeling. J Hector (4-20) followed up as the hosts subsided to a measly 88 all out; Dave Jewell's first boundaries for the club providing the only bright spot.

UNPLAYABLE: Danny Dancer took 5 for 4 as Martinstown beat Bridport by seven wickets.

The visiting batsmen found things much more to their liking, only losing one wicket in reaching their target.

OLD BLANDFORDIANS 113-3 BEAT BRIDPORT 2ND 109 ALL OUT BY SEVEN WICKETS

BRIDPORT 2nds suffered an unexpected defeat against Old Blandfordians, losing by seven wickets. The visitors only managed 109 all out which was easily within the compass of the Old Blandfordians.

Division Seven

CREWKERNE 53-0 BEAT BOURNEMOUTH 2ND 48 ALL OUT BY TEN WICKETS

CREWKERNE cruised to a ten wicket win over bottom side Bournemouth 2nds to keep them promotion aspirations alive.

Mark Culpitt (3-9 from 12 overs) led the bowling attack that saw the visitors dismissed for just 46 all out, with good support from Robbie James (3-18), Francis Medley (2-11) and Richard Wakely (1-7).

James (18 not out) and Jon Gould (21 not out) knocked off the runs in less than nine overs.

Sunday Division Four

SYMENE 165 ALL OUT LOST TO STALBRIDGE 226-7 BY 61 RUNS

SYMENE'S promotion chances were thrown into chaos when they went down by 61 runs to fellow candidates Stalbridge in a match that ebbed and flowed.

The result means the Symondsburyside must gain 19 points in their final game of the season next Sunday at Pokesdown Willows 2nds to ensure they are promoted.

So tight is the situation that it is possible they could get promoted as champions or miss out on a top two spot.

Stalbridge's openers put on a half-century partnership in the first ten overs before Symene made the breakthrough, and looked to be getting back in the match before Jon Forshaw steadied the visitors with a half century to steer them to a total of 226-7 in their allotted overs with home skipper Graham Bartlett taking 3-54 and Liam Toohill 2-52.

Symene were going well in reply and looked to have the measure of Stalbridge as Marcel Grunschloss and Sam Chalis hit 66 from just seven overs in a fourth wicket stand.

However when Challis (17) unfortunately holed out to the only close fielder and then Grunschloss (54) got a ball that stayed low, the innings collapsed from 129-3 and 149-4 to 165 all out as visiting first teamer Rob Burfitt coming on as fifth bowler ripped out the Symene tail with 6-23.

Veteran Colin Wilcox who injured a hand trying to take a difficult catch off his own bowling said: "We flattered to deceive unfortunately. We had chances; I dropped Forshaw soon after hurting my hand and he was dropped again as well, and then the last six batsmen only contributed 23 runs between them."

PORTLAND RT 117 ALL OUT

LOST TO CHARLTON DOWN 118-8 BY TWO WICKETS

CHARLTON Down certainly put the cat amongst the pigeons by beating league leaders Portland RT on the island.

Although it is highly unlikely the fourth placed Dorchester side can overhaul either Symene or Stalbridge who hold second and third spot respectively, the defeat could mean long time favourites Portland RT could miss out on being champions or indeed fail to gain promotion.

READERS MID-WESSEX LEAGUE

Division One

WINCANTON 134 ALL OUT

LOST TO BROADWINDSOR 211-8 BY 77 RUNS

BROADWINDSOR exacted revenge on league leaders Wincanton in the reverse fixture of last week's encounter which the Somerset side won easily.

Put into bat by their hosts, Joe Hawkins and Chris Park had the opposition fielders scurrying around the field after the early loss of Steve Phillips who was run out. The pair put on a near century stand before Park was dismissed for 32.

However Hawkins continued to dominate and with the help of Ross Baker (29), Broadwindsor set a total of 211-8 in their 45 overs with Hawkins undefeated on 106 not out.

Although Wincanton kept pace with the required run rate they lost wickets at regular intervals but with Murray Legg taking 4-24, including a hat trick, only Dan Legg with a solid 50 found any form, and with Ade Phillips and Jack Walklett both bagging a brace of wickets, Broadwindsor ran out

Meylan lifts Pelman Cup

A TOPSY-TURVY week in the leagues saw the ladies come out best with a 8-2 victory over West Moors away.

The mens' championship side had their first whitewash of the season away to Alexandra Park, the 'B' team faced the same result against Greenhill 'B' despite only losing by five shots overall.

The 'A' team were in action twice this week as they try to catch up on postponed matches. They only managed to pick up eight points from the two games.

In the friendlies, the annual match against Winchester ended in a win for the visitors but the game against Taunton Deane came out in favour of the home side.

The Pelman Cup was contested on Saturday - a 3-wood singles knockout and threw up some very surprising results.

Relative novice Sheila Cox accounted for seasoned veterans Geoff Cozens and Charlie Clissold who had already knocked out the possible favourite Paul Pomeroy.

Glen Broom found his way to the final after beating Steve Pomeroy and Sheila Cox.

Don Meylan, always a dark horse, put paid to Chas Barber, Chris Barber and Roy Edwards on his way to the final which he eventually won by three shots.

Well done Don, a marathon of some 77 ends to get his hands on the trophy. He's going to be a hard man to beat this year.

Harrison makes his mark in charity swim

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD Harrison Yarnold made a splash recently when he competed in the one mile Weymouth Bay Swim in air of the British Heart Foundation.

Harrison, from Askerswell, was the youngest out of over 300 participants and finished a very creditable sixth in a time of 22 minutes, and in doing so raised around £100 for the charities funds.

He was joined by the oldest participant, 72-year-old Gerard Wyllis from Blandford Forum.

This year's race started from the Pavilion end of Weymouth beach and finished at the Rocky Groyne near Lodmorr Country Park.

Harrison is no stranger to sea swims, and came second in the Biathe World Championships, held in Dubai last year. Biathe is a branch of the modern Pentathlon and is a run-swim-run event and a world-class sport. He is also a member of Exeter Swimming Club and Dorset Pentathletes based in Weymouth.

The budding athlete left Dorchester Middle School in the summer and will be attending Exeter School when the term begins next month.

He was due to take part in the National Biathe championships in Salford on Sunday and hopes to go to the World Finals in Sofia, Bulgaria in September.

His father Howard said: "It's great that Harrison could not only continue his training by taking part in the swim, but also supporting a great cause like the British Heart Foundation. We were really proud that he was the youngest participant there."

The swim helped to raise over £28,000 last year, which helped the BHF to continue to invest in lifesaving

MIXED GREENSOME OPEN EVENT

AFTER some overnight rain which made the fairways slightly less firm and slowed the greens significantly, the Lyme course was in excellent condition for the annual mixed Greensome open event on Saturday.

Not everyone's favourite format as many regard it "half a round of golf" with alternative shots being taken by each of the team members after the tee shot, the event was extremely well supported with participants from all over UK. With a fresh South Westerly wind blowing, temperatures were a little on the cool side but scoring was respectable in the extreme.

The eventual winners with an excellent 42 points were A Vickery and S Bristow from Enmore Golf Club closely followed by D Dowell and R Dowell from Windwhistle with 40 points. Third place was taken by Graham Taylor and Jan Kelly with 39 points. The best placed Lyme Regis team was achieved, on countback, by Mike and Cindy Mudford with 38 points.

ON Monday, a team of Lyme Juniors golfers travelled the short distance to take part in the Bridport Junior Open event.

With weather conditions good, albeit a little chilly in a fresh south-westerly wind, the team, as a whole, performed exceptionally well.

Indeed 14-year-old Colyton schoolboy George Seed continued his exceptional form of the current season to record a gross 72 (net 66) to win the scratch event in convincing fashion. As a result George has been rewarded with a reduction to a handicap of 5. David Lyon also posted an impressive score with a gross 76 (net 67) but, unfortunately was edged out of the prizes.

ANGLING

Chidzoy defies weather in RNLI open

DAVE Chidzoy didn't let heavy rain earlier in the day deter him from scooping first prize in the RNLI Open Match organised by West Bay Sea Angling Club.

Only 26 anglers, a poor turnout, took the chance the weather would settle to fish from Eype beach which was opened up by the club this year due to the high spring tide which could have restricted access to East Beach, West Bay.

Chidzoy won the competition and £120 prize money for his haul of bass and bull huss weighing 2kg 360g.

Adam Cullingford was second with his dogfish weighing 1kg 85g, but not only picked up £25 for the heaviest round fish, but a whopping £300 Penn tackle voucher donated by Wales angler Joe Arch, for catching the heaviest individual fish.

Oliver Mears and Ant Buik shared third place with catches of 1kg 60g, whilst Frances Kitchen was top lady, and Scott Nichols the top junior.

It is hoped that the competition will raise at least £150 for the Royal Naval Lifeboat Institution.

■ WORTHWHILE: Adam Cullingford receives his prizes from club President Fred Bowditch

Satisfying afternoon despite lack of glory

MISTER Matt and Ballygulleen put in good performances for the Bob Buckler stables at Newton Abbot last week despite neither finishing in the frame.

After eight top three finishes, including two victories in his last two runs, Mister Matt stepped up two classes and finished fifth in the Class 2 Bryan Westcott Memorial Handicap Chase over two miles. Held up in mid-division jockey Andrew Glassonbury made his move three fences from home but could not maintain the pace of winner Mibleu.

Bob Buckler said: "Considering he was stepping up two classes he wasn't disgraced and ran a very creditable race. He jumped and travelled well throughout, but wasn't quite good enough on the day, but with a £14,000 prize and his owner present it was worth having a crack at. We will now find another race for him."

leg problem with a satisfying run in the 3mile 3furlong Jim Renfree Memorial Handicap Hurdle.

Held up at the rear Glassonbury moved closer to the leaders with a circuit to go but tired from three out to finish tenth.

Buckler said: "He needed the run. He takes a lot of work at home, and rally needs a right hand track, but at the moment we have to take what we can find."

"I rode him out this morning and he is certainly a lot stronger and fitter for the run, and I don't think it will be long before he is back in the frame."

Meanwhile Ethiopia and Cullahill will be soon back in action after a short break following their runs at Newton Abbot in early July where both disappointed after good runs of form through tiredness. They have both been entered in the Genesis Wealth Management Handicap Chase over three miles at Bangor-on-Dee on Friday.

And they're off! - reports from the new football season

By Stuart Broom & Howard Larcombe

Magpies white-washed on opening day

DOVER ATHLETIC 4 DORCHESTER TOWN 0

BLUE SQUARE SOUTH, SATURDAY, AUGUST 13TH

DORCHESTER Town began the new Blue Square South season with their longest trip of the season to return empty handed following a 4-0 trouncing at the hands of title-favourites Dover Athletic.

A brace apiece from Billy Bricknell and George Purcell gave the Kent side the best start they could wish for, although the Magpies created enough chances themselves to have worried the Whites.

After the disastrous start to last season, manager Ashley Vickers side which included new signings Nathan Pehra-Annan alongside Nathan Walker in the centre of defence, and Ashley Nichols in midfield could not have had a more challenging opening fixture.

They went behind in the 16th minute when Bricknell reacted quickest to Barry Cogan's free-kick to score from close range before Walker or Neil Martin could close him down.

Three minutes later Purcell added the second when he scored from the rebound after Simon Evans had blocked his first shot after he had broken free of the visitors defence.

The match was over four minutes later when Purcell struck again, this time with a well controlled volley from the edge of the box.

Dorchester were not without their chances, and both Ryan Moss and Chris Flood might have reduced the deficit as the visitors looked for a way back into the game.

The Whites completed the scoring just after the hour when Bricknell scored with a low shot through a crowd of players.

The Magpies will now look at Tuesday's home match against Maidenhead United, who were also trounced by the same score at home to newcomers Tonbridge Angels, to get them off the mark.

Terras succumb to late winner

WEYMOUTH 1 CAMBRIDGE CITY 2

SOUTHERN LEAGUE PREMIER - SATURDAY, AUGUST 13TH

WEYMOUTH appeared to have at least gained a point from their opening Evo-Stik Southern Premier Division encounter against one of the title favourites Cambridge City at the Bob Lucas Stadium on Saturday, but conceded two second half goals to leave the big home crowd disappointed.

Last season's top goalscorer Warren Byerley had given the Terras a deserved first half lead, but the introduction of substitute Neil Midgley on the hour mark turned the game the visitors way.

City made a flying start and almost scored in the first 20 seconds when Joey Abbs hit the angle of the goalframe following a mazy dribble and cross from Dubi Ogbonna, before Craig Hammond was thwarted by Terras keeper Nick Jordan who blocked his effort at close-range.

Weymouth rode the storm and began to get back in the game, and took the lead midway through the half when Byerley got in front of the challenging Dave Theobald to head Ollie Tribe's cross firmly past City gloveman Zac Barrett.

Matt Groves came close to adding to their lead just two minutes later when Theobald forcibly restricted the striker's effort.

The defender came closest to equalising for the East Anglian side when he headed just wide from a corner as the interval approached.

Weymouth continued to hold the ascendancy at the start of the second half, but Midgley changed the game when he replaced the limping Ogbonna on the hour. He brushed aside Scott Dixon as they challenged for Robbie Nightingale's through ball and fired in an angled shot that appeared to be deflected off Ben Gerring beyond Jordan.

Weymouth responded, and Barrett dealt well with efforts from Byerley, Stephen Reed and Richard Marshallsay before Cambridge grabbed the winner 13 minutes from time. Nightingale's cross from the right was nodded back across goal by Luke Robins beyond the far post for the unmarked Hammond to pick his spot with a header that gave Jordan no chance.

Byerley did clip the top of the crossbar but Cambridge held on to give Terras manager Brendon King something to think about before Tuesday's trip to Bashley.

Clarke gives Bees great start

BRIDPORT 1 CORSHAM TOWN 0

TOOLSTATION DIVISION ONE - SATURDAY, AUGUST 13TH

CHRIS Clarke's goal on the stroke of half-time was enough to give Bridport a winning start in their first game back in the Toolstation Western League Premier League.

His header from Dan Wise's corner earned the Bees the points at the end of a pulsating opening half to the new season, and although the game did not reach the same heights after the break, it was no more than Trevor Senior's charges deserved.

The game started at a lively pace and Darren Watts did well to keep his volley from a deflected Sam Charles cross down, but it went straight at the visiting goalie Luke MacFarlane.

Corsham responded almost immediately and Bees keeper Sam Filkins was forced to push Kane Kaupinnen's long range left foot effort behind for a corner from which striker Matt Jenkins headed just over the angle of the goalframe.

It was open, end to end play at this stage and Filkins had to be alert to push Phil Baker's 30-yard effort over the bar, before repeating the feat from Aaron Ledgister thunderbolt from the resulting flag kick.

Bridport showed plenty of drive but were lacking that final ball to unlock the Reds defence, whilst Ledgister continued to be influential and keep the Bees defence on their toes.

However midway through the half Bridport picked up their game and it took a superb reflex save from MacFarlane diving to his right to keep out Wise's 10-yard volley from Charles' cross, before Russell Legg saw his header hacked off the line by Lee Fernandes with the keeper beaten.

A superb pinpoint crossfield pass from Wise then gave Matt Condliffe the chance of a run down the left, and Corsham's Ed Baldwin was forced to head his cross behind for a corner as Clarke threatened on the other flank. From the corner, Condliffe drove his angled shot wide of the right hand post.

Ledgister tried his luck from 35 yards but shot straight at Filkins before it looked as the visitors would take the lead against the run of play three minutes from time.

The Bees defence were caught out by a cross from the right which found Jenkins unmarked on the penalty spot. His measured header towards the top right-hand corner looked to have beaten Filkins but somehow he managed to reach back and flick the ball against the underside of the crossbar and the post before it was hacked clear by Chris Senior.

Clarke had more luck in the last minute of normal time however when his thumping header from Wise's corner gave the Bees the lead they just about deserved.

By comparison the second-half was tepid with neither side appearing to show the same appetite; the Bees defended solidly, whilst Corsham appeared bereft of any ideas on how to break the Bees down.

It wasn't until midway through the half that there was any real threat of either goal when Kaupinnen's angled drive rippled the side netting, before Legg headed over from Wise's free kick.

Corsham had a good case for a penalty in the 77th minute when Filkins dropped the ball as he went to collect a cross. In the melee that ensued involving several players, it appeared that Baker was hauled down as he was about to turn the ball home from close range.

However referee Mark Lawrence failed to support his claim, and after Filkins had eventually reclaimed the ball, he booked the Corsham player for his protestations.

In a feisty finish, Legg was booked for a challenge which saw MacFarlane receive substantial treatment, before he was hurt again as he bravely dived at Condliffe's feet to prevent the wingback from sealing victory.

Condliffe had cleverly weaved his way past three defenders in a mazy run before laying the ball sideways to Legg. MacFarlane blocked his shot but was injured as Condliffe reacted to the loose ball.

Senior will have been pleased to start with a victory but will be aware that his side will need to take their chances at this level.

Bridport Football Partnership AGM

THE annual meeting of the Bridport Football Partnership takes place next Wednesday (August 24th) at the Beehive starting at 7pm.

DORSET PREMIER LEAGUE

THE opening day of the season saw 40 goals amassed with THREE separate hat-tricks scored, and no drawn games amongst the nine matches played.

Defending champions Hamworthy Recreation returned from their trip to the League's newcomers Tintinhull with a deserved 4-1 success. Goals for the visitors came from Blackburn, Sands, Mason and Moores, with Platt scoring Tintinhull's first ever DPL goal.

The tie between Winsham United and Crewkerne Town at Bakers Field was abandoned when regere Brendan Luesley, having sent-off Kev Wheeler, refused to continue under a barrage of abuse.

AXMOUTH UNITED 0 WAYTOWN HOUNDS 2

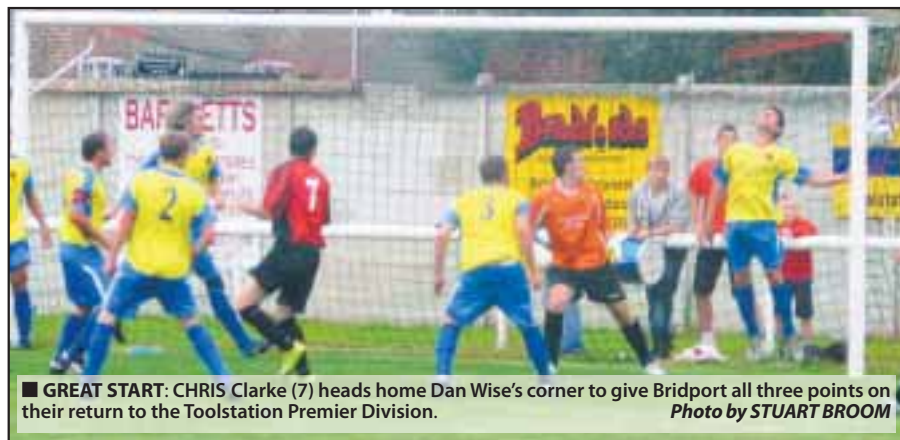

BEVISS & BECKINGSALE CHALLENGE CUP, SATURDAY, AUGUST 13TH

SECOND-half goals from Ed Stephenson and Tom Menaldino (pen) saw Waytown Hounds lift the inaugural Beviss & Beckingsale Challenge Cup trophy at Axmouth on Saturday.

Stephenson broke the deadlock in the 65th minute with a clever 20-yard chip over the Ax'keeper.

Soon after a superb tip-over from Billy Fleet denied the hosts a leveler before a Steve White shot was handled in the area late-on.

Tom Menaldino tucked away the resulting spot-kick. Hounds' manager Mark Hughes confirmed that the club were hopeful of making the match an annual pre-season event with their East Devon opponents.

Simkin: Not exactly what we had planned

DORCHESTER Town suffered a disappointing 4-0 loss in their opening Blue Square South fixture at the Crabble last Saturday on their longest trip of the season.

After an encouraging start they conceded three goals in an eight minute spell midway through the first-half, that saw the Magpies management tear up all their plans at halftime.

Assistant manager Phil Simkin admitted it was not how they had planned the game which wasn't helped by conceding some sloppy goals.

"It was a long hard day. We set off at eight in the morning and didn't get home to almost 11 at night, and to come away with a 4-0 defeat didn't make things any better!"

"Having started very well and creating a couple of half chances, Dorchester fell behind to a Billy Bricknell goal on 16 minutes which suddenly became three in a very short time.

"It was unreal to be honest. Having started brightly we conceded a sloppy goal from a free kick that pinged around the box and before we knew it we were three down."

Manager Ashley Vickers changed the formation at halftime opting for a 4-3-3 formation by sacrificing Nick Crittenden for Ben Dickinson.

"We had nothing to lose being three down, so we changed our shape, and in fact created a lot of chances.

"Unfortunately, as so often last season, we didn't take them. Although they are a good side they were not four goals better than us.

"They have certainly spent a lot of money which makes them one of the favourites, and in Bricknell and George Purcell they have two quality and proven goalscorers, but we created a lot and mustn't be too disheartened by the result. We showed okay."

The Magpies have a chance to get off the mark when they played Maidenhead United at The Avenue Stadium on Tuesday, and Simkin said ahead of it: "It is no good panicking, it wasn't the result we wanted or expected, but we did create a lot.

"Whilst Maidenhead also lost 4-0 to new boys Tonbridge Angels, we must also respect them as they have some good players.

"We do however have a good chance to make a good start at home beginning on Tuesday and then another home game against Eastbourne Borough on Saturday."

With no injury problems from Saturday, the squad for Tuesday's match was expected to be unchanged which includes Ryan Dovell who came on as a second-half substitute and showed well in his first Blue Square South game.

James Coutts has left the club by mutual consent and joined Evo-Stik Southern Premier Division side AFC Totton on a free transfer.

The 24-year-old midfielder made 50 appearances for the Magpies but was plagued with injuries for a lot of last season.

He met with manager Ashley Vickers to discuss his future, and with no real chance of regular football reluctantly decided to move on.

◆ Former Magpies' loanee Danny Ings has landed a £1m transfer to Championship side Burnley. The 19-year-old striker spent three months at the Avenue at the end of last year before establishing himself with parent club AFC Bournemouth who's ex-manager Eddie Howe he has followed to Turf Moor.
